Taking care of the Queen’s animals

[Fond sonore : bruits ambiants de visiteurs et cris de corbeaux.]

Hello, welcome everyone! I am a ravenmaster, the Queen’s ravenmaster. I look after her Majesty’s ravens. So I work at the Tower of London. I’ve got a red and black uniform with a black hat.

I take care of my six, black birds. I feed them every morning – they like biscuits – I clean their cages too. The tourists here come to see the Tower of course, but also to see the ravens. Look at this bird for example: it’s a star! It’s Merlina. Every visitor knows this bird’s name! Merlina is an intelligent bird and... I love this job!
